CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION'S RULES OK'D BY TOWN COUNCIL

Rules and regulations of the Gettysburg Civil Service Commission were approved Monday evening by the borough council at its session at the fire engine house.

The approval gives the commission the "go-ahead" signal to hold an examination for policeman in the near future.

The rules provide that candidates for the examination given by the commission must be over 21, must pass a physical examination, must not have ever committed a crime, must apply on specific forms provided by the commission.

To List Eligibles
According to the rules, tests will be given on knowledge of arithmetic, local geography, local government, general knowledge and ability to read and comprehend.

From the results of the test, the commission will compile a list of those eligible for appointment as policemen. When council is considering an appointment, the commission will certify a list of eligibles to council from which it can select new officers.

Other qualifications include at least one year residence in Gettysburg, a height of at least five feet eight inches and a weight of at least 155 pounds.

No Top Age Limit

Councilman John Fox, one of the members of the commission which includes Dr. Joseph Baker and High School Principal Guile W. LeFever, said the commission did not set any maximum age for policemen in its rules, "leaving that up to council. One man may be capable at 65. Another might be considered too old at 50. We think it's a matter for council decide on each individual."

The rules and regulations provide that when council plans to appoint a chief of police a non-competitive examination is given. The candidate and the result of that examination are certified to council before it takes final action.

Special preference is given according to the rules, to veterans and men who have served as temporary policemen.

Council pointed out that it has no intention changing the police force, but that there is no list of eligible candidates at the moment.

Storm Sewer Cost $4,400
Councilman John Millard reported that the borough's portion of the new storm sewer on Buford Ave. has been completed at a cost of approximately $4,400.

Councilman Fox said he had been approached informally concerning whether the borough will pay the electric current for the Christmas lights. Council pointed out that the town has paid the electric current for years. Last year the cost of the current for the Christmas lights was $99.32, Treasurer Baschore said.

Traffic Congestion Up
There was much discussion on congested conditions on W. High St. on Sunday mornings with much traffic entering the street in connection with church services. A suggestion was made that one-way traffic be set up for Sunday morning. (Continued on Page 2)

A. B. C. Williams, president of the county Agricultural Extension Association, will preside at the business session at which six directors will be elected and annual reports presented. DR. D. F. PUTMAN TALKS AT LOCAL SERVICE MONDAY

Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church, told a Reformation Festival audience that "the true significance of the Protestant Reformation was that it enabled Christians to worship Christ directly, without the intervention of priests, books, or forms of worship."

Rev. Dr. Putman, former pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, and graduate of Gettysburg College and the local Lutheran Seminary, spoke in the Church of the Abiding Presence of the Seminary Monday evening.

He said that "Luther should not be regarded as the final authority. We must not consider Luther's position on all matters as the last word on the topic. To do so sets a deadening hand on the future. Luther's job was to clear away the barriers hiding Christ. Never let Luther himself stand in the way."

"Luther Every Generation"
"A Luther should be born anew in every generation, to incorporate the gains of science and philosophy into the church. This is what is meant by the expression, 'Not back to Luther, but forward to Luther!' This is the continuing Reformation."

"Our only hope for salvation lies, not in forms of worship, or good works, or even in the Bible, but in Jesus Himself. Many Protestants have become people of the Book, no more. True children of God should be people of a Person. . . . This is what Jesus meant when He said: 'I am the way, the truth, and the life.'"

Widely Observed
Dr. Putman told of the "increasing awareness of all Protestants of the importance of the Reformation." Over 350 communities now celebrate it interdenominationally, he said.

He spoke of the old church, which, he said, "sought to kill ideas by killing people," and mentioned the names of John Huss and others. He compared it to a dry forest, where "new conflagrations were always breaking out." The old church, he said, was "wandering in blindness, committing blunder after blunder."

"When Luther stood up against the sale of church indulgences," Dr. Putman said. (Continued on Page 5)

Admits Stealing Radio, Cigarettes

Tolbert R. Guise, R. 3, signed a plea of guilty to a charge of having stolen a radio and some cigarettes from the suitcase of Manuel Arroyo, October 16, in the Greyhound bus terminal. The hearing was held Monday morning before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore, who recommended him to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail. Guise also pleaded guilty to a morals charge and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor who was a ward of the court.

FBI Arrests Martha Stone Indicted In June As Red

NEW YORK (AP)—FBI agents have arrested a woman they identified as Martha Stone, 44, a Communist Party worker since her teens and a Red underground leader since 1951.

The woman was seized in a Bronx restaurant, the FBI said yesterday. It said she had been sought since her indictment last June 17 by a federal grand jury in New Haven, Conn.

She is charged with being a member of a group which teaches and advocates overthrow of the U.S. Government by force or violence. If convicted, she could get 10 years in prison, a $10,000 fine or both.

The woman will be arraigned in New Haven Federal Court, possibly today or within the next day or so, said U.S. Atty. Simon S. Cohen in New Haven.

The FBI said Martha Stone was for years an open Communist leader in New Jersey but in 1951 went underground and had hidden behind assumed names ever since. Agents said she failed to come forward and reveal her whereabouts even when an auto accident hospitalized her 6-year-old son in November, 1951.

In Passaic County, N.J., CIO leaders recalled that Martha Stone was an organizer for a new defense textile union in Paterson in 1933. Her union lost out to the CIO Textile Workers Union of America in a drive to represent labor in the county's huge textile industry.

WILBUR PLANK TELLS CLUB OF HIS WAR WORK

Wilbur L. Plank, Springs Ave., president of the Gettysburg Engineering Co., told of his engineering and military experience during a classification talk at Monday evening's meeting of Rotary at the YWCA.

Plank, who served as a colonel in the quartermaster corps in World War II, told the group that his electrical engineering training and experience had little to do with his assignment after Pearl Harbor. The army, digging into his records, found that during his younger years, while in school, he had become a mechanic at the H. and H. Machine shop here. The army needed officers who have a knowledge of automobile mechanics more than it needed electrical engineers and he wound up heading an auto maintenance unit.

But while assigned to auto maintenance he found that the engineering skills came in handy. Sent to the Persian Gulf, he found himself obliged to set up a camp and all his engineering skill was called into use.

Helped Electrify Penny
Temperatures were 135 degrees "every day" and finally "the heat got me." Plank said the army solved that problem by sending him to a mountainous district where it put him in charge of six camps. Maneuvers during the early part of World War II in the southern states helped solve many problems of supply, "in fact our troops ended the maneuvers better equipped than they were when they started."

After completing Gettysburg College, Plank went to General Electric at Schenectady, New York, and served in a number of capacities as an electrical engineer. He then joined several other companies.

1st Snow For Election Day

With more snow and colder weather forecast for tonight and Wednesday, Adams Countians were going to the polls today through snow for the first time in many years. Effects of the snow on the size of the vote and its outcome were favorite topics of discussion.

Snow began falling here about 11 a.m. although State College and other upstate sections had as much as three inches by noon.

Today's snow recalled the first snow of 1953 which arrived on Friday, November 6, bringing postponement of a football game while at the college snowplows were put into use to clear away the four-inch snowfall.

A few flakes were noticed here Monday evening as rain began falling before midnight. Light rain kept up much of the night, growing heavier during the late morning before the snow began.

The temperature hovered in the 30's today after sinking to a low of 35 degrees here early today. Rainfall by 8:30 a.m. totaled a quarter of an inch.

2,730 WEEKEND VISITORS

A total of 2,730 tourists visited the Gettysburg Battlefield over the weekend the National Park Office reported Monday morning. The estimate, based on guided tours, showed 1,344 persons in cars and seven in one bus were here Saturday and 1,344 in cars and 35 in one bus toured the field Sunday.

NEW SCHOOLS IN UPPER END TO BE READY BY JAN. 1

Approximately 500 Upper Adams school children will move into two brand new schools when they return from the Christmas holidays.

At least that was the tentative report presented to the Upper Adams Joint school board at its meeting Monday evening at the Biglerville High School.

Reports of the contractor indicate that the two new elementary schools—at Biglerville and Arendtsville, will be completed by the Christmas vacation deadline. The buildings are to be ready for school officials to move equipment from the old elementary schools at Biglerville and Arendtsville during the Christmas vacation. When the youngsters return after the first of the year the buses will take them directly to the new schools.

Most advanced in its construction is the new elementary school at Biglerville, where plaster has already been placed on the walls and the heating system has been installed, ready to be turned on next week. The new Arendtsville elementary school is about "a week behind" the Biglerville school in its construction, according to reports to the board.

The new schools will provide space for 275 students each. Into the new school at Biglerville will move the youngsters now occupying a two-room "emergency" portable temporary building put up several years ago at the community building, and those occupying the four class rooms in the old cinder block building that was erected about 1921 as the Biglerville-Community building. A few years after the structure was erected it was taken over by the Biglerville school board to provide "temporary" housing for students. Thirty-three years later the "permanent" housing have been completed, the board noted.

X-RAY 450 IN COUNTY MONDAY

The State Department of Health x-ray mobile unit examined 450 persons in York Springs, East Berlin and New Oxford on Monday as the unit began a week's work in this county. Those x-rayed included high school pupils over 15 years of age and industrial workers.

The unit's total for the day was reduced by reason of the fact that one industrial plant on the schedule was closed for the day because of the hunting season.

The unit is not operating here today, Election Day, but will resume Wednesday at Delone Catholic High, Fairfield High and Biglerville High. On Thursday it will be in Littlestown and will be located in front of the State Bank there from 5 to 9 p.m. to x-ray the general public.

It will be in Gettysburg on Friday to x-ray high school pupils and industrial workers. The x-ray unit will be available to the general public from 6 to 9 p.m. in front of the Metropolitan Edison Company office on York St. It was previously had been announced that the unit would be at the Gettysburg Hardware store on Baltimore St.

The x-rays are made free of charge.

Mr. Springer has studied in Philadelphia and in Europe, spending considerable time in London. He is now organist and choir director of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Hanover, which has the third largest church organ in the United States and has 235 stops and 13,000 pipes. He also instructs at Gettysburg College. This is Mr. Springer's fourth year of teaching at Gettysburg. The public is invited to attend.

PRIEST TALKS AT LENTZ LEGION SESSION HERE

Rev. Fr. Anthony P. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, addressed the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion at its monthly meeting Monday night in the post home. He was one of a series of clergymen to address the post, as a part of the "Back to God" program.

Several representatives of the post will attend the Membership Round-up, to be held at the State Capitol in Harrisburg, November 20. The membership goal for the Department of Pennsylvania is 300,000 for 1955, half of whom are expected to be signed by November 20. The Legion membership for 1954 in Pennsylvania was 270,000.

Enroll 12 Members

A thank-you letter was read from Don Moser, Gettysburg High student whom the post sent to the Keystone State Boys' Camp at Lock Haven, for one week last summer. An article telling of his experiences, which was printed in the high school paper, The Maroon and White, was inserted into the meeting's minutes.

Twelve new members were introduced at the meeting. They are: Carl J. Jensen Jr., Gettysburg College; Harold M. Ruddy, 401 Steinwehr Ave.; M. HEN TAKES RIDE UNDER CAR HOOD

Glenn Mummert, Gettysburg R. 4, became a chicken owner in an unusual fashion last week. Mummert Friday visited his father-in-law, Russell Moser, Littlestown, and then drove for about 35 miles, stopping at the Battlefield Service station here for gas and oil.

When attendants opened the hood they found something new had been added—a hen was seated atop the fuel pump.

Mummert placed the chicken in a box and took it home. Enroute it laid an egg.

Saturday he returned the fowl to his father-in-law who recognized it as one of his flock. The men surmise that the bird flew up under the car and was roosting on the engine when Mummert, unaware of its presence, left the Moser home Friday.

Moser, convinced that the hen had adopted Mummert, presented him with the fowl.

Dear Friends,
Thank you very much for sending the President and me the lovely basket of field grown mums from your back yard. You must be blessed with "green thumbs" to grow such a wonderful combination of autumnal colors—and you may be sure that we are enjoying them to the utmost.

You are kind to offer us some starts of these flowers and we certainly shall keep it in mind.

Again, many thanks and the President and I want you to know that we appreciate the kindness and generosity of our Gettysburg neighbors.

GAS COMPANY PAID $2,300 FOR PERMITS

Repairs and renovations made by the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company to its lines on York St. and Buford Ave. in anticipation of the reurfacing of those streets cost the company more than $2,300 for digging permits alone, Burgess William G. Weaver told borough council at its meeting Monday evening.

The burgess' report showed $3,537.32 for digging permits. Of that amount he said more than $2,300 was from the Manufacturers Light and Heat in connection with the York St. and Buford Ave. repairs, and approximately $1,100 was from digging permits issued to the Municipal Authority.

Other collections reported by the burgess included $179 in parking fines, $40 for ten building permits; $547.79 theater tax, $30 in garbage collectors licenses, and $5 for one underground tank permit.

OCTOBER WARM, WITH UNUSUAL EXTRA RAINFALL

A cold, snowy winter may be ahead according to almanac prognostications but Gettysburg is having one of the balmiest falls in years.

October was the warmest here since 1947 and followed the warmest September in 10 years.

Exactly four inches of rain last month brought the total for the first 10 months to 27.56 inches and pared the 10-month rainfall shortage to 7.57 inches. Normal October rainfall in Gettysburg is 3.33 inches.

The Arendtsville weather station had 3.94 inches of rain which left it 9.46 inches short on rain for 1954. The accumulation there for the first 10 months is 27.08 inches.

Extra Rain Unusual

Last month was the first October since 1949 to receive more than normal rainfall. Last year the month was more than two inches short of rain. There were measurable amounts of rain on 10 days last month.

The temperature range was from a low of 30 degrees on October 8 to a high reading of 88 degrees reached on the 1st and again on the 12th. The average daily high reading was 70.2 degrees and the average daily low was 48.2 degrees, making the month's daily average temperature 59.2 degrees. Normal for October is 53.6 degrees. The average daily excess of temperature was 5.6 degrees. In October of last year there was a 92-degree reading but the month's average was only 57.5 degrees.

The Arendtsville report for October shows a daily average temperature of 57.8 degrees which is 3.13 degrees above normal for that station and 1.07 degrees above the average for October of last year. The high reading at Arendtsville was 89 on the 12th and a low of 28 degrees was reached on Sunday. November arrived in Gettysburg with a low of 30 degrees, equaling the low mark for October but at Arendtsville the low Monday was 25 degrees.

FACES CHARGES AFTER ACCIDENT

A motorist involved in a hit-run accident in the 300-block Frederick Street in Hanover Monday at 5:45 p.m. eluded the owner of the damaged machine by wading Plum Creek in the 700-block and fleeing through the woods.

While police were searching for the missing driver, W. H. Stotts, appeared at Hanover police headquarters about 7:30 a.m. today and identified himself as the operator of the car that struck the Shue machine. Police said he will be charged before Justice of the Peace William Naill Jr., Hanover, with failing to stop at the scene of an accident and with driving without an operator's license.

Investigating officers said John H. Shue Jr., 406 Baltimore St., Hanover, told them he was driving east on Frederick St. and saw the other machine approaching from the opposite director, weaving over the road. Shue told police he pulled to the curb and when his car was side-swiped he turned around and gave chase. The second car, Shue said, pulled along side the Goodfellow used car lot in the 700-block and the driver abandoned the vehicle, crossed Plum Creek and ran through the nearby woods.

The abandoned car, owned by William H. Stotts, Littlestown, was impounded by borough police. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at $100.

ing with cars entering the first block from S. Washington St. and exiting on Baltimore St. In that fashion Baltimore St. would not be blocked. That brought up a question of motorists who halt on Baltimore St. at High to purchase Sunday morning newspapers. Solicitor Eugene V. Bullett said he felt it illegal to try to make W. High one way without a special ordinance. There was some discussion concerning removal of parking from one side of the street. Others suggested an officer at the scene during the peak hours of the traffic jam.

Finally council did nothing about the matter "since it only lasts about 20 minutes," as Burgess William G. Weaver and Council President H. M. Oyer put it.

Borough Engineer LeRoy Winebrenner reported work of rounding the Carlisle St. entrance to Race Horse Alley at The Gettysburg Times building was started Monday. The Times plans to place a new sidewalk at the same time, he said.

A new street light at the intersection of two alleys to the rear of the fire engine house was approved. Councilman Philip Jones, reporting for the light committee said it had no recommendations concerning possible changes of lights on Washington and High St. until "someone can give us some recommendations on what to do with the trees."

The burgess was asked to investigate an offer by Charles P. Thalhalm, Fairfield, to repair the borough's parking meters.

Council decided to investigate an alley to the rear of the Jacobs properties on Carlisle St. to see if there may be an outlet which would permit ordaining the alley.

A donation of $250 was voted for the Warner Hospital.

WAS WINDOW DECORATOR

The position held by the late "Bert" Widder at the former G. W. Weaver and Son store in Lincoln Square was window decorator and sign painter and not window cleaner as was stated incorrectly on Monday. Mr. Widder also was a window decorator later for stores in Johnstown and Baltimore.

"EVENING SKY"

I like to watch an evening sky . . . before the stars break through . . . for it is then the clouds are sprayed . . . with rainbow-colored hue . . . I marvel at the setting sun . . . that sinks into the west . . . leaving behind a golden glow . . . to grace Dame Nature's breast . . . there is a peaceful countenance . . . about an evening sky . . . a warm and friendly tenderness . . . that tells me night is nigh . . . across blue heavens glide songbirds . . . that through the daytime roam . . . but when the evening shadows fall . . . all things go winging home . . . so I continue on my way . . . to where my heart will sing . . . and gain fulfillment of the joys . . . an evening sky can bring.

BOY, 14, ADMITS SHOOTING HIS BOY COMPANION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 14-year-old Linden, N. J., boy has admitted shooting a younger companion yesterday in the living room of his home, police here said last night.

He was identified as Nicholas Rohocke. The boy was arrested shortly after 10:30 p. m. in a center city railroad station. Police were summoned by a suspicious ticket agent after the boy asked for a bus ticket to South Dakota and offered $24 fare.

Victim of the shooting was Stephen Vircik Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Vircik of Linden. "Police quoted Rohocke as saying he and the victim were alone in the Rohockes' home when the shooting occurred. He told them he was playing with a shotgun, unaware that it was loaded."

Dragged Into Yard

Rohocke said he dragged the body of young Vircik into his own front yard and fled. Linden police said they found two shotguns and some shells on the floor of the Rohocke home.

An autopsy is to be performed today. The victim and his parents came here from Czechoslovakia about five years ago. The father is employed by American Cyanamid.

Littlestown REV. SHILLING IS VETERANS' DAY SPEAKER

The Rev. Russell T. Shilling, pastor of the West Manheim charge, will be the guest speaker for the annual Armistice Day (Veterans Day) service on November 14. Plans for the union service in the community were completed at the monthly meeting of the Littlestown Ministerium, held on Monday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The service on Sunday, November 14, will be at 7:30 p.m. in Centenary Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Shilling is a major in the Chaplain's Corps, and a member of the United States Army Reserve attached to the 79th Division Artillery in Harrisburg. He served for four years in World War II in the Philippine area. The Rev. Herman E. Stenger, pastor of the host church, will conduct the service, which, according to the annual custom, will be attended by the members of the local veterans organizations and their auxiliaries.

The meeting yesterday morning was conducted by the Rev. William C. Karns, president of the Ministerium. The Rev. G. Howard Koons offered the opening prayer. The Rev. Charles B. Robert, secretary-treasurer, reported. The ministers talked briefly of the annual union Thanksgiving Eve service to be held on Wednesday, November 24, 7:30 p.m., in Redeemer's Reformed Church, with the Rev. Arthur E. Leeming, supply pastor, in charge; and the Rev. Mr. Stenger will deliver the Thanksgiving message.

To Extend Fall Series

Plans for the extension of the fall series of the union vesper services were made. The series has been conducted each Sunday evening during October and will continue for three weeks following the Armistice Day service, on November 21 and 28, and concluding on December 5. These union services consist of illustrated lectures by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where the services are held. The lectures are about the Holy Land, and are designed to aid the laity in a better understanding of the Biblical places which the Rev. and Mrs. Kammerer visited during their seven weeks tour in the spring. On November 21, the Rev. Mr. Karns will be in charge of the worship; November 28, the Rev. Mr. Stenger and December 5, the Rev. Mr. Koons, pastor of Christ Reformed Church.

It was announced that members of the local ministerium will be in charge of the daily morning devotions, 8:30 a.m., over radio station WHVR, Hanover, during the week of November 8. The schedule was arranged as follows: Monday, November 8, the Rev. Mr. Stenger; November 9, the Rev. Mr. Karns; November 10, the Rev. Mr. Kammerer; November 11, the Rev. Mr. Koons and November 12, the Rev. Mr. Leeming.

To Attend PTA Meetings

Upon request of the Littlestown Jointure Parent Teachers' Association, the ministers have consented to have a minister present at each of the PTA meetings, to offer prayer. The group voted to contribute religious books to the local library, with a maximum sum of $25 to be spent for this purpose. The Rev. Mr. Karns and the Rev. Mr. Kammerer will select and purchase the books.

The annual preaching mission will be held again this year, and final plans were discussed for the services from Sunday, January 2, through Friday, January 7, in St. Paul's Church. The Rev. Mr. Kammerer reported that the Rev. Ira D. Sassaman will be the guest speaker for

Mr. Kammerer will introduce the speaker and the Rev. Mr. Koons will pronounce the benediction.

Plan Winter Series

The mid-winter series of union services was planned. A guest speaker will be secured for each service by one of the local ministers. The services will alternate in the various churches of the community with the host minister presiding at each service. On January 9, February 13 and March 20, the services will be held at St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. Mr. Karns, pastor, and the Rev. Mr. Leeming will secure the speakers; January 16, February 20, services in Redeemer's Reformed Church, and the Rev. Mr. Karns will be in charge of the worship; November 28, the Rev. The Gettysburg Association of Clubs

Wishes to publicly thank all those individuals who helped make the 1954 Community Halloween Program a success.

Special thank yous are extended to the 95 Gettysburg merchants who gave cash contributions totaling $221.00 toward prizes and to those merchants who gave other contributions such as additional prizes for the King, Queen, Prince and Princess; the AROTC and ROTC of Gettysburg College for helping form the parade and for arranging for three judges from Dickinson College ROTC; those Gettysburg citizen-couples who so graciously served as judges; Chief of Police Jack Bartlett for marshaling the grand parade; the Gettysburg Police and Fire Departments for invaluable aid parade night; those merchants who offered their windows for the children's painting contest; J. I. Hereter and Son for the judge's stand in Lincoln Square; those merchants who entered window displays in the special contest originated this year and to The Gettysburg Times and Radio Station WGCT for the priceless publicity given the several events.

The Association wishes it known that it is indebted, indeed, to the 35 representatives of the five member clubs, American Legion Post 202, Eagles Aerie 1562, Elks Lodge 1045, Moose Lodge 1526 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 15 and their Auxiliary, who gave so freely of their time and talents—often at great personal sacrifice to home and business, in planning and carrying out the program; and, most especially, to Kenneth Denzler, the general chairman, Francis L. Wisotzky, Paul Anzenberger, Mrs. Sewell Kapp, the late, beloved Charles Lauver and Nevin Bush, sub-chairmen, and C. David McCullough and Charles Rupp, committee members, and to the Association Treasurer, Harold Wentz, and Secretary Arthur J. Roth for performances above and beyond the call of duty.

To those hundreds of our friends and fellow-clubmen and women who contributed their pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars to provide the funds so that we could give Gettysburg and Adams County a real Halloween Treat, the Association is grateful forever.

If anyone has been missed we earnestly beg your pardon. The past three months of preparing for and staging the Halloween program were real trying at times and our secretary kept so many minutes and records that he may have forgotten somewhere and some place to write something down. We know we have made a lot of mistakes along the way. We hope to benefit by these and make the 1955 program bigger, better and more complete

Today's Talk

RICHER THAN WE KNOW
We know so little of what we are. We are an undiscovered country to ourselves. It's as though we sat upon a piece of land and owned it, yet without knowledge that it contained a fortune of oil, gold, silver or other precious substances.

We, as individuals, are like that. It takes time, experiences, contacts, traveling, and study to learn of the hidden riches within us. We are, however, far richer than we, or anyone else, know. If we mined ourselves for the undiscovered, as we mine the earth for treasure, we would no longer be classed with Shakespeare's "underlings."

Montaigne had this to say: "We are every one richer than we imagine, but we are taught to borrow and instructed to shift; and rather to make use of other's goods and means than of our own." Also he wrote: "Have you known how to compose your conduct? You have done more than he who hath composed books. Have you known how to take rest? You have done more than he who hath taken empires and cities. The glorious masterpiece of man is to live properly."

Read the ideas of great thinkers and philosophers. You won't find them advocating mere money as the total aim in life. Rather will they put stress upon the free mind and its expression by itself. They will praise the fearless, the thinker, and the miner for mental and spiritual wealth.

We are richer than we know, but it often takes an emergency to waken us to the possibilities that lie within us. How many a boy has come from a small town and gone to the big city, where he later distinguished himself. The example of Thomas E. Dewey, New York City racket buster and three times elected governor of New York, as well as having run for the Presidency twice, is an inspiring one. He came from a small Michigan town to New York to study singing, but the occasions revealed that he was wanted higher up!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Enjoy Yourself—Relax"

HOUSE RULE
"This home is kept for laughter and for fun," we used to say.

"We don't like fits of temper for they always spoil the day."

We don't like stupid quarrels and all arguments we shun
So children just remember here we laugh and we have fun."

They would battle on occasions, as the best of children do.
They'd be difficult at table, but the cure for that we knew.

Their mother simply asked them what within this house is done?
And the answer came back promptly: "Here we laugh and we have fun."

The years are long and many and the laughter's not so gay,
And the fun is not so merry since the mother went away.

But whenever we get together, long before the meal's begun,
I remind them all: "Remember, here we laugh and we have fun."

ASSUMES NEW POST
HARRISBURG (P) — John S. Davidson, Harrisburg, today began his duties as industrial representative on the selective service appeal board in the middle federal judicial district of Pennsylvania.

The appointment was announced yesterday by Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state selective service director.

Davidson is vice president of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

ACCUSE FOE OF WANTING TO SNIPE AT IKE

PHILADELPHIA (P) — Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Republican candidate for governor, concluded his campaign with the charge that the Democrats want to win control of Congress "so they can spend the next two years sniping at President Eisenhower's wonderful program."

In a final campaign speech last night, televised throughout the state, Wood said the Democrats have a "sinister purpose" in trying to gain control of Congress.

"They want two years of split government," said the Montgomery County attorney and part time turkey farmer. "Two years to do everything they possibly can to discredit the President and increase their chances of electing a Democratic president in 1956."

Wood said the Republican campaign platform made it "extremely difficult" for the Democrats to offer the voters anything equal, "much less something better."

"No Accomplishments" said Wood, "have no record of accomplishment to offer. In fact, having in mind the scandals, the unemployment, the destruction of industry that were the only accomplishments of the last Democratic administration in Pennsylvania, you may have noticed that in this campaign your Democratic candidates have carefully avoided discussion of the Democratic record."

In his final election eve statement, state GOP Chairman Miles Horst predicted "another Republican sweep" was in the making.

"I have been getting such favorable reports from every county in Pennsylvania," said Horst last night, "that I have found it necessary to caution against over confidence." He added:

"Their candidate for governor (George Leader) failed to convince the voters that he has enough grasp of the affairs of our great state to be entrusted with the responsibilities of the highest office in our Commonwealth."

"Nothing has demonstrated more plainly his inexperience than his refusal or inability to tell the people how he would finance vital and essential state services, particularly our public school system." Horst said today's voting would result in an "overwhelming vote of confidence not only in the vast achievements under Republican administrations in Pennsylvania, but also in the great forward stride made by the nation under President Eisenhower."

BARR PREDICTS VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS

PHILADELPHIA (P) — In his final pre-election appeal to the state's voters, state Sen. George M. Leader said he would direct every effort as governor of Pennsylvania toward the economic problems of the commonwealth.

Meanwhile, state Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, in an election eve statement, predicted a Democratic victory in today's balloting that would "set the pattern of government in this state for years to come."

Appearing in Philadelphia last night on a panel television show sponsored by his party, Leader, York County chicken farmer, said if elected governor he will be dedicated to "getting people back to work."

Leader said he would concentrate on building up the state's industry, especially that portion of its adversely affected by a melting away process to southern states.

"We have to compete with the states of the South," said the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. "We must diversify to meet the problem. We must provide lower public utility rates, industrial development programs to build new plants. We can't stand still in Pennsylvania. We must move forward."

Cooperate With Cities
Leader said he would seek to operate a state administration that will cooperate more fully with cities like Philadelphia and "tie the state economic program in with the federal program."

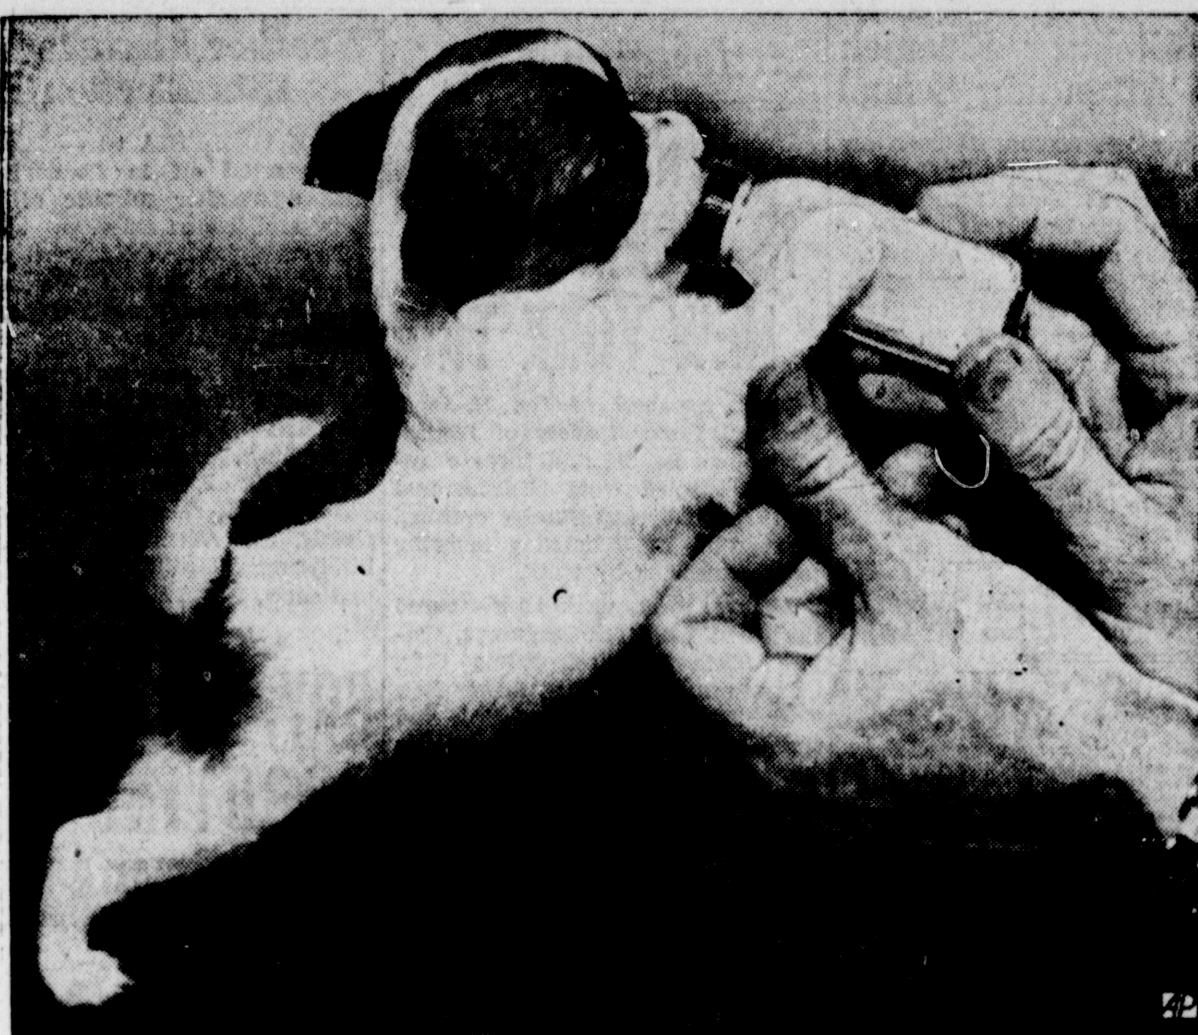

Barr said he considered the election "an epochal contest between two sharply contrasted political philosophies."

On the one hand, said Barr, "we have a new, revitalized, confident Democratic Party moving irresistibly to new political heights in a campaign to restore liberalism to government and make it an enduring medium of political service to the people."

And on the other, he added, "we have old guard Republicanism fighting desperately to retain primitive, ox-cart government for the privileged few against the rights of the many."

The Democratic state chairman said the voice of the voters "will be reflected in one of the most stunning political upsets ever recorded by the Democratic Party."

MAN JAILED ON THEFT CHARGE

SORANTON, Pa., Nov. 2 (P)—A veteran employee of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. is in jail today charged with embezzling $29,000 from a federal credit union of employees.

He is Merlan Yost, 54, of R. 1, Sugar Loaf, Luzerne County, an auditor for the PP&L at Hazleton. He has been with the company 36 years.

The FBI said Yost was treasurer of the Peapack Federal Credit Union for the 250 employees and that he stole the money during the period from November, 1948, to last Tuesday.

His arraignment was scheduled for today.

Yost, a father of five children, three of them married, was taken before U. S. Commissioner Harry Kolb. He was not represented by counsel. Bail was set at $5,000, but Yost could not produce the money. He was committed to Lackawanna County jail.

Schools Will Have New Milk Subsidy

HARRISBURG (P) — The State Public Instruction Department says it will enter contracts with local school districts for a special school milk subsidy by Nov. 15.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday the contracts are the result of a federal program designed to increase milk consumption by school children and to channel more fluid milk into immediate use.

The U. S. Agriculture Department has allocated nearly two million dollars to Pennsylvania to be used in reimbursing school districts taking part in the program.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

TWO BAILED FOR EXTORTION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 2 (P)—Two men accused of blackmailing a Pittston businessman and threatening to kill him were released on $5,000 bail each at a hearing yesterday.

Justice of the Peace William H. Roberts of nearby Kingston ordered each of the two defendants held under $2,500 bail on each of two counts—blackmail with threat to kill and conspiracy to blackmail with threat to kill.

The two men, Laboria Baccanari, 76, retired mineworker, and Samuel Arnone, 55, unemployed miner, both of Pittston, later posted bail and were released.

They were arrested Saturday night in Pittston. Police said the intended victim of the alleged plot was Russell Williams, 75, operator of a retail and wholesale tobacco business in Pittston.

6,000 RESUME LONDON STRIKE

LONDON (P) — Nearly 6,000 London stevedores went back on strike today, bringing fears that last month's disastrous waterfront stoppage may be revived.

By midday 42 of 150 ships in the port stood idle. Port authorities feared others of London's 23,000 dockers might come out after meetings this afternoon.

The strike began yesterday with dockers at one wharf refusing to work alongside nonunion truck drivers or drivers who worked during the October strike.

That strike, enthusiastically backed by the Communists, lasted four weeks and crippled eight ports. It held up trade worth 560 million dollars and the government says some of this loss may never be recovered.

COP IS JAILED FOR FORGERY

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (P)—Lt. Ernest Ehlers, 42, a member of the Pottsville Police Department for 18 years is in jail today accused of forgery to obtain money from the Pottsville Fraternal Order of Police.

He was ordered held in default of bail yesterday after pleading guilty on three counts before Alderman Robert J. Kalbach.

Patrolman Clyde Storch, lodge president, brought the charges. Storch said Ehlers, who was treasurer of the fraternal order for 10 years, had forged his name and the names of other lodge officers to obtain sums totalling as much as $14,000.

Storch said a preliminary investigation indicated 345 checks missing between 1945 and now. He said that Ehlers also forged names to U. S. Defense Bonds.

Storch said an accountant would be hired to make a further check of the books and to determine the exact loss.

Spend $132 Million On Roads, 10 Months

HARRISBURG (P) — The State Highways Department said it spent $132,569,000 during the first 10 months of 1954 on road construction and maintenance.

E. L. Schmidt, state highways secretary, said the total was $21,172,000 higher than for the same period in 1953, which was the previous highest year for road system expenditures.

Schmidt said excellent construction weather was the reason for the increase.

ARCHERY NOW FAMILY AFFAIR

By DION HENDERSON
By The Associated Press

Warrior-style hunting can be fun, especially when you don't have to depend on it to feed the family.

Twenty years ago the bow and arrow was all but forgotten.

Last year, says the National Field Archery Assn., more than 100,000 archers were issued licenses for bow hunting in the 26 states that have recognized the sport so far, and the boom is on.

This renaissance for Robin Hoods apparently follows the growing trend toward hobbies in which the whole family can take part. Most state game officials, in opening more and more liberal opportunities to bow hunters, pitch the proposition at the fun angle.

Thus, most special seasons are arranged not for the best hunting conditions but for the most pleasant camping, hiking and such.

What you need to take advantage of this splendid new excuse for week ends in the woods—in addition to regular autumn outfitting togs—is, obviously, a bow and arrow.

Suggested "Weights"

And since while bowhunting you may occasionally come around a bush and stare a deer or bear in the eye, you'd best start with a bow "weighing" 30 pounds or more. Forth is better, and some of the 15 big game states have legal minimums. Fifty pounds, however, likely will be too much to draw for a redeemer.

When you get into the store you'll find bows are relatively inexpensive. Simple lemonwood items can be had for under $10, and the very best in laminated wood-and-glass are under $50.

Hunting arrows can be had for between $10 and $15 a dozen. Big game arrows will have broad razor-sharp heads with two or three blades. Small game arrows may be without barbs, or even completely blunt depending on concussion for effect. There are also special arrows for fish and fowl shooting.

Otherwise you'll need only a shooting glove to protect your tender fingers from the pull of the string, an arm guard to protect your arm from ditto, and perhaps a quiver in which to carry your arrows. After that, just find a place to pitch the tent where the scenery is favorable.

DR. D. F. PUTMAN

Putman said, "and nalled his 95 theses to the church door, the church was rocked by a tremendous explosion, which shook it to its foundations, and which, in turn, has produced other explosions down to this very day."

"It was a struggle of ecclesiastical authority versus spiritual democracy. It struck at the inordinate power of the Pope and the church hierarchy, and the idea of the indispensability of a priest between God and man. Always, even in Protestantism, there is a tendency to think of a such a special order of men. Luther knew that this was an unproductive doctrine, and tended to kill the spirit."

"One result of the Reformation explosion was the splintering and re-splintering of Protestantism, into many sects. That trend has now reversed, and we are the first generation since the Reformation to see a movement toward church unity."

"If we love the Lord above all else, such doctrinal dividing lines become dim and blurred."

The services opened at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. The liturgy was John H. Wagner, president of the seminary Student Association. The acolyte was John P. Seltzer. The organist and director of the seminary choir was Robert L. Clippinger. Hymns, recitations, and a scripture reading preceded Dr. Putman's sermon.

UCLA GOES TO TOP IN AP POLL; OHIO STATE 2ND

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The growing idea that a football team has to "win big" every Saturday to maintain a high national ranking will come in for a serious test next weekend.

Although the educators deplore the thought of running up big scores to impress the voters, the success of such scoring teams as UCLA and Miami has been reflected consistently in the balloting of the sports writers and broadcasters participating in the weekly Associated Press ranking poll.

It's UCLA on top this week, the third leader in as many weeks.

Ohio State Is Second

Virtually all the top 10 teams figure to win from this Saturday's opponents, so it comes down to the question of whether just winning is enough. Army won from Virginia, 21-20, last Saturday but dropped two notches in the rankings.

The leading teams, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. UCLA (72) 1,931
2. Ohio State (69) 1,903
3. Oklahoma (42) 1,666
4. Arkansas (16) 1,494
5. Notre Dame (4) 1,457
6. Miami (Fla.) (14) 870
7. Army (1) 755

DOGS

By Farley Manning

LITTLE LOST DOGS

There have been many cases of dogs finding their way home over long distances. The latest instance is that of Skippy, a mongrel belonging to Martin Rubin of Mount Clemens, Mich. Skippy, after being lost for five months, finally turned up bearing proof that he had taken a 600-mile jaunt from Fort Dodge, Iowa. The proof consisted of a Fort Dodge license tag he was wearing when he limped wearily into the home of his loved ones.

Various aspects of this canine homing instinct have been discussed in this space before. Another comes to mind when one reads the news dispatches which stated that Mr. Rubin couldn't explain how the dog made the 600-mile trip.

Of course he couldn't, but undoubtedly many questions have entered his mind since Skippy's return. How many days and nights did Skippy spend on the road? How many forks in the road did he come to, and what prompted him to choose the right one? One can easily imagine a weebone, footsore Skippy standing at a dusty crossroads. He sniffs the wind for a moment, whines plaintively perhaps, then trots off on his seemingly endless journey.

One can only guess how many lonely nights he spent, sleeping fitfully in whatever sheltered spots he could find. More happily, one wonders how many good people, including those who bought his license, sheltered and fed him before he resumed his weary way, driven by some inner compulsion that proved stronger than his need for food or drink.

Anyone who has lost a dog will rejoice with Skippy's owner, and be thankful that somewhere there exists a force, call it what you may, that often looks after little lost dogs and guides them home again.

Football Knows No Color In West Virginia School

INSTITUTE, W. Va. (P)—Many times sport has been the key to the door of tolerance. But at Negro West Virginia State College here the key has been unique.

It recently was discovered that four white students had reported for football drills at State.

The surprise came not so much from the fact that white students were out for football, as from the fact that white students had even enrolled at State. It was not publicized by State officials.

After the Supreme Court ruled segregation of white and Negro students unconstitutional earlier this year, West Virginia took preliminary steps to end it. At some high schools, demonstrations against Negroes resulted.

But a few Negroes enrolled at the state's white colleges without incident.

It still came as a surprise to most persons that white students, an estimated 100 of them, had enrolled at State, one of West Virginia's two state-supported Negro colleges. State's 1953-54 enrollment was about 900.

Sports writers accidentally stumbled on the fact that football coach Mark Cardwell, star at State in 1923-24, had white students on his squad.

Cardwell said he expects two of the white students, John Caldwell and Dick Bruner, to see a good deal of action this season against State's all-Negro opponents. Caldwell was first string lineman on a good 1950 squad at nearby Nitro High School, and Bruner starred at center in 1952 at Dunbar High.

Other Candidates

From the other two candidates, Cardwell expects less help, but he describes them as good prospects. They are Gene Brightwell and Dave Collins, who led the scoring in the potent Kanawha County Scholastic League while at Nitro during the 1951-52 seasons.

Among the reasons State is attractive to white students is that it is the only state-supported school in the heavily-populated Kanawha Valley, which includes Charleston, the state capital; its faculty has an exceptionally good reputation, and the tuition is only $25 a semester, considerably less than tuition at available private schools.

Steelers Have Confidence In Kiesling's Third Try

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH (P)—Big Walt Kiesling, a crusty veteran of 29 years in professional football, hopes the third time at the helm of the Pittsburgh Steelers is the charm.

Kiesling has succeeded Joe Bach who resigned after the National Football League Steelers lost three straight exhibition games.

The 50-year-old St. Paul, Minn., native coached the Steelers from 1939 to 1942 and then was co-coach of the Pitt-Philadelphia combination in 1943. He piloted the Chicago Cards-Steelers in 1944.

His 1942 team barely missed the Eastern title. That year the Steelers won seven and lost four, with the victories coming in the last nine games.

One of Smartest

"He's one of the smartest coaches in the business," says President Art Rooney of the Steelers.

"We've got a good rookie crop. We've lacked spark, aggressiveness and spirit on some occasions, but we'll come along."

Rooney, who also owns a stable of horses, isn't the one to toss superlatives around with reckless abandon. He's a straight-from-the-shoulder guy who tells you what he thinks.

Retains T-Formation

Kiesling is retaining the T-formation installed by Bach. He also will add new formations and a variation of the T, stressing passing.

Bach, best remembered as one of Notre Dame's "Seven Mules," completed an unusual cycle with the Steelers. He first was head coach of the Steelers (then the Pirates) in 1935. He stayed two seasons then returned to collegiate ranks and again signed in 1951.

The Steelers have asked Bach to remain in a scouting capacity. But he hasn't said yes or no. The answer probably will be no. He's had his fill of pro football, at least right now.

Kiesling has played and coached with some of the all-time greats in the pro-football business. A graduate of St. Thomas College, he started his career with a team known as the Duluth Eskimos 29 years ago.

After two seasons, he shifted his line talents to the Pottsville, Pa., eleven. Then he spent five seasons with the Chicago Cards, two with the Chicago Bears, and one with the Green Bay Packers. In 1932 with the Cards he was named all-league tackle.

MOUNTAINEERS WILL PRESENT VETERAN FIVE

Coach Jim Phelan's Mount St. Mary's cagemen opened drills for the current season last week. All but three of last year's Mason-Dixon tourney champs are back for another season. Led by Jack Sullivan and Sal Angelo, all-tourney and all league choices last season, and Bill Stanley, all-tourney, Phelan can floor the same starting team that capped last season's play with a seven-game winning streak that took them to the tourney crown.

Charley O'Donnell and Frank Smith, starters last season, round out the first five. Reserves Frank Swaine, Ed Bals, George Donohue, and Jack McGrath are also hustling for starting berths.

Under Phelan the Mountaineer set offense of last season will be scrapped in favor of a flash pivot attack, in which all the cagers can move into the pivot momentarily. The stationary pivot, which resulted in Angelo's great performances, will be sacrificed to; new pattern which Phelan feels will give the squad better balance on the attack and sharper rebounding.

Newcomers Shine

Pushing the veterans for jobs are two fine-looking prospects Bill Williams, Middletown, N. Y., who at 6'5 has played excellently under the boards and has good shots from all over. Freshman John McNamara, Elizabeth, N. J., also 6'4, has caught Phelan's eye with aggressive work under the boards.

In the early scrimmages between last year's varsity performers and this year's freshmen, the champs were embarrassed by the newcomers who served notice that all the starting jobs are up for "grabs" by outscoring the varsity.

Prospects are bright for a good season at the Mount, with the team improving steadily as they begin to master Phelan's new system. Whether the team will have sufficient height to cope with the likes of Georgetown, vastly improved this year; St. Francis of Loretto, with the country's leading rebounder in Stokes; St. Francis of Brooklyn, and Quantico, is something else. All these teams will be met on the Mount floor in what promises to be one of the best home schedules in Mount St. Mary's history.

DELAY DECISION ON JUROR ISSUE IN MURDER TRIAL

By WILLIAM NEWKIRK
CLEVELAND (AP) — An election day recess today delayed a decision on whether James R. Manning, a convicted sex offender, should be removed from the jury picked for the Sheppard murder trial.

Informed sources, however, indicated Manning would be replaced by an alternate juror and the trial would proceed. A declaration of a mistrial was not thought likely.

The controversy swirling about the real estate salesman the past two days has almost overshadowed the real issue in the trial: Did osteopath Samuel H. Sheppard, 30, beat his pregnant wife to death last July 4 after a purported affair with Susan Hayes, a pretty hospital technician? This is the state's allegation, which Sheppard denies.

Might Use Alternate
Yesterday Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon demanded that Manning be tossed off the jury on grounds he failed to reveal a crime in his background. Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan immediately demanded proof that Manning was a sex offender.

With that, the trial was recessed until tomorrow.

While Judge Edward Blythin would not speculate on what course the trial will take Monday, it was believed he would refer to this Ohio law in deciding the Manning question:

"... If before the final submission of the case to the jury, a juror becomes incapacitated or disqualified, he may be discharged by the judge ..."

Court sources said that would enable the judge to discharge Manning and replace him with one of the two alternate jurors selected yesterday.

PROTECTION NEEDED
WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Burglars got 200 company checks when they broke into an office here. Five weeks later the office again was entered. A check protector was the only item missing after the follow-up call, sheriff's deputies said.

Death Of Golfer's Wife Is Suicide

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The death of Mrs. Mary von Elm, 46, wife of George von Elm, the golfer who beat Bobby Jones for the national amateur title in 1926, has been listed as suicide by the coroner's office, which said there will be no inquest.

Dr. Frederick Newbart, county autopsy surgeon, said yesterday she died of nicotine poisoning. Roy A. Ford, 29, von Elm's golf protégé, who had been drinking with Mrs. von Elm and was with her when she died last Wednesday, told police she drank from an insecticide bottle which he tried to knock from her lips.

Ford is held in $3,000 bail on a morals charge filed after Dr. Newbart said the autopsy showed evidence of sexual perversion.

Terre Haute Fans Quit 3-I Team

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—The Terre Haute Phillies of the Three-I baseball league, owned outright by the Philadelphia Phillies, came to an end last night in a financial bust.

The Terre Haute Fans Assn., a local booster club, had sold the National League team the franchise for one dollar in 1946 with an option to rebuy.

The Philadelphia club submitted an offer last night to donate $15,000 to the local boosters and return the franchise, retaining a working agreement. Philadelphia explained another $35,000 would be needed to field the team next season.

The fans association replied it would not be able to raise the money in time to continue the team before the Three-I meeting Nov. 22.

COAL COMPANY CUTS OUTPUT

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The Glen Alden Coal Co. says it will tool-down from a production capacity of 5 to 6 million tons annually to a 3½ ton level, effective next spring.

President Francis O. Case said yesterday, in announcing the proposed cutback, that the move was an effort to control costs in the face of a shrinking market for anthracite.

Case blamed the market condition and an intense summer price competition for "disappointing third quarter results" announced by the company.

The company said it had a net loss of $1,240,000 for the first nine months of the year, compared with a loss of $2,508,000 in the same three quarters of 1953. Sales for the period were $51,800,000 for this year compared with $58,200,000 for last year.

Case said the lower production base assumes the anthracite industry sales will level out at 15,000,000 to 17,000,000 tons within the next two years. Present indications are, said Case, that 1954 sales will not reach the 22,500,000-ton level estimated earlier this year.

John Wayne Is Married 3rd Time

KONA, Hawaii, (AP)—Hollywood actor John Wayne took his third Latin-American wife here yesterday, black-eyed Pilar Palette of Peru.

"This is the greatest thing that has happened to me in my whole life, and I've had some wonderful things happen," Wayne said.

They were married in the garden of Territorial Sen. William H. Hill, with whom Wayne has been staying during filming of "The Sea Chase," which was completed today.

Miss Palette's first husband was Richard J. Weldy, whom she married in Lima in 1950. She was granted an annulment Thursday, the same day Wayne's divorce from his second wife, Esperanza Baur, became final.

Wayne's first wife, the former Josephine Saenz, daughter of a Dominican diplomat, is the mother of his four children.

FOR DEPENDENT CARS?
MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams has proposed the nation's income tax laws be revised to allow a deduction for the family automobile to offset what he called "the automobile recession."

Such a bill would stimulate automobile sales and get many old and unsafe "junkers" off the road, he said.

GETS THE AIR
NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A young Marine was given a 30-day jail sentence and fined $50 in Traffic Court in spite of his testimony he was "just airing out the car." Police said he was airing it out at 85 miles an hour and 8 passengers were in the convertible with him.

IN NAME ONLY
RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A subdivider delayed development of a tract because two streets, planned for an 1887 subdivision but never laid, were shown on official city maps of the area. It took legal action by the City Council to vacate the streets so real streets could be constructed.

MOUNT PLEASANT, S. C. (AP) — Thirty-six voters out of 695 registered went to the polls in a town election here to re-elect unopposed Mayor Francis F. Coleman to his fifth term, along with six councilmen and the waterworks commissioner.

"I don't know whether you would call this a vote of confidence," Coleman commented, "but at least they made it legal."

Damaged U.S. Sub Steams 275 Miles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The USS Bergall, a submarine rammed by the destroyer USS Norris some 275 miles off the Virginia coast Sunday, steamed into the U.S. Naval Base here yesterday under its own power for repairs.

The Bergall's conning tower was damaged but none of its crew was injured.

Two other destroyers collided during the anti-submarine exercises in heavy seas. No personnel were injured.

FUN FOR RELIEF

CHEROKEE, Iowa, (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bond exhausted their funds for treatment of their 7-year-old daughter, Barbara Ann, who has cerebral palsy, friends and neighbors contributed $530 to continue treatment. One contribution of $294 was the proceeds of a neighborhood circus produced by a group of children.

MAKE JUNIOR INTO AN ANIMAL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When witches start warming up their brooms and the spooks are getting ready for the big night, it's time to prepare a really sensational Halloween costume for Junior.

Gay and whimsical costume patterns are made by all leading pattern companies, complete with simplified sewing and cutting directions. Local sewing center experts recommend that you make your own "trick-or-treat" outfits for the small fry of the family, adding that you'll find it a welcome change from the usual sober sewing you must do. All are easy and quick to make, need little fitting and may be made in non-sense fabrics.

A particularly effective costume is a "cat's pajamas" outfit made in red-and-white peppermint-striped cotton. Size 8 takes about 4 yards of 35-inch fabric, with another ¾ yard of contrasting fabric to line the hood and make the ears. Cotton batting stuffs the long tail, and a straightened-out coat-hanger or other piece of wire gives the tail shape and character. A long zipper closes the front, and snap fasteners at the wrists make it possible for Junior to free his hands to get at the Halloween treats.

Can Imitate Others

From the same basic pattern you can make other members of the animal kingdom, such as a rabbit and a panda, by varying the type of ears and tail as well as the fabric.

After your young masquerader is zipped into his costume, you can add whiskers with an eyebrow pencil, and maybe tie a bow on the end of the cat's tail.

If you use individual custard cups in which to bake popovers, place the cups on a baking sheet for ease in handling.

Volume Tells What All Men Should Know

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The publication was advertised as "What all women know—What every man should know." Several men sent for it.

One of them called Clyde N. Kemery of the Better Business Bureau. The volume was a cook book.

"He was really bitter about it," Kemery said, "and we agreed the bureau should do something. We will."

TOY LIBRARY

OMAHA (AP) — Children's Memorial Hospital has a toy library for its young patients. When the collection of toys donated to the hospital outgrew the cupboards where it was kept, a specially equipped room was set aside.

Volunteer women distribute them. Biggest rush at the toy library comes at 3 p.m. when visiting parents leave and the job of diverting home-sick youngsters starts.

HORSE IS SOLD FOR $105,000

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A record price of $105,000 was paid last night for the 9-year-old stakes-winning Masaka, one of 20 broodmares consigned to the Keeneland sales by the Aga Khan, who is reducing his fabulous racing establishment.

A. B. Hancock Jr., who bid the previous record of $85,000 a year ago today, again acted as an agent. Speculation is that the man who paid the $85,000 for Lite—John S. Phipps—also bought Masaka. Ironically, both record-setting broodmares were barren at the time of sale. Masaka having miscarried her foal by the great Tulyar because of an infection after being shipped here.

Horsemen had figured Masaka would bring about $125,000 before she miscarried. This was backed by the spirited bidding, which started at $50,000 by stipulation.

The contending bidder was Maj. Hartmann Pauly, manager of Miss E. R. Sears' racing interests, which later in the sale bought Usumbura for $83,000 and Rivaz for $63,000. All told, the Aga Khan's 20 broodmares brought $539,100 to average $26,955.

Masaka drew attention because of her six stakes victories, as well as having produced a champion.

Chimney Clogged By Hazel Kills 3 Men

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP)—Three men suffocated Sunday in a gas-filled apartment. Police said the gas came from a clogged chimney badly damaged by Hurricane Hazel.

Deputy Coroner Martin Murphy identified the three as Steve Kollins, 67, and Jacob Shistle, 58, two bachelors, and John Kotes, 45, father of six children, who was visiting them. Murphy said there was a strong odor of coal gas in the apartment.

Police said the chimney became blocked with soot where a portion of it had been blown off by storm winds. They said the coal stove used to heat the place apparently hadn't been turned on since the hurricane until Saturday night.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A destroyer rammed a submarine and two other destroyers banged into each other Sunday during anti-submarine warfare exercises in the predawn darkness off Norfolk. The Navy said nobody was hurt seriously but the four vessels limped toward port today with extensive damage.

Man, Boy Hunter Are Shot To Death

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two hunters were shot to death Saturday when Pennsylvania's 1954 small game season opened.

Rain and rather cold weather greeted the early hunters but the State Game Commission said that most first day hunters had a good chance to get their limits.

Robert Hartman, 14, was killed while hunting near Union City, Erie County, with an 11-year-old brother and two others. The coroner issued a verdict of death by accidental shooting.

Homer Wagner, 48, Ashland, was killed by a shot from his own weapon set off when he tripped over a fallen tree near his home. The small game season ends Nov. 27.

Police Guarding Candidate's Home

CLEVELAND (AP)—Private detectives maintained an around-the-clock guard Monday at the Chagrin Falls home of Rep. George H. Bender.

The Republican candidate for U.S. Senator hired Pinkerton detectives to guard his house and 14-acre estate after two sticks of dynamite were found in his car Saturday. A detonator cap had exploded without setting off the dynamite.

Bender, who heads a House subcommittee investigating purported labor abuses, said the bomb planting was an attempt to frighten him. He did not say who might have planted it.

WILL VOTE ON NAME CHANGE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Voters will decide today if this date-line is to be changed to Mount Nittany, Pa.

The name change proposal is on the election ballot in this Centre County central Pennsylvania community as the result of a year-long controversy. Both those working for the change and those against it predict a close decision.

Last minute appeals from both sides were directed to the borough's 5,600 voters over the weekend.

The "Friends of State College," seeking to keep the present name, conducted a door-to-door campaign in an effort to get voters to say "no." The "Committee of 50," favoring the name change, countered with telephone appeals asking a "yes" vote for Mount Nittany.

The question boils down to a battle between sentiment and confusion. One side favors State College because of tradition. The other contends the name results in confusion since the Pennsylvania State College became Penn State University last November.

Both sides continued a barrage of letters to the Centre Daily Times, the town newspaper. The rivals have been represented daily in Page 1 stories giving their reasons. More than 16 columns of letters—or two full pages—were carried in today's paper.

14 KILLED IN JUNGLE CLASH

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Terrorist murders and a guerrilla clash killed at least 14 persons in French North Africa over the weekend.

Security forces fought Tunisian nationalist guerrillas in the Djebel Hellal, a few miles northeast of Gaisa Saturday and Sunday. The French reported eight guerrillas were killed, while their own casualties included one killed and "several" wounded.

In Morocco, the other French protectorate, six dead and 11 wounded were reported after scattered political murders.

Violence also broke out Sunday night in French Algeria. First reports said there were some 300 terrorist attacks by fire and bombs. They appeared to center around the city of Constantine. Nominally a part of France itself, Algeria has been calmer than either of the protectorates. However, an Arab nationalist organization, the "Movement for the Triumph of Democratic Liberties in Algeria," has considerable strength there.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Pure Water Assn. is seeking the removal of State Health Secretary Russell E. Teague because of what it calls his promotion of fluoridation of public water supplies.

In a telegram to Gov. John S. Fine the group's directors said, "There is no authority under existing law for the approval of fluoridation installations."

There was no immediate comment from Fine.

BATISTA TOPS OPPONENT 8-1

By SAM SUMMERLIN

HAVANA, Cuba, (AP)—Maj. Gen. Fulgencio Batista and his supporters celebrated victory early today as election returns gave the former army sergeant a commanding lead in his presidential race against the opponent who quit the fight at the 11th hour.

The official count reported at 2 a.m. today by the electoral tribunal showed Batista with 106,698 votes from yesterday's balloting to 12,950 for ex-President Ramon Grau San Martin. Grau withdrew Sunday night and ordered his followers to boycott the election. The official returns were from only 647 of the 8,000 polling places.

Semi-official returns announced at the same time from army headquarters credited Batista with 954,857 votes to 135,417 for Grau. This count was based on 6,017 polling places.

Army headquarters said Batista was carrying with him to victory most of the candidates of his four-party coalition for congressional, provincial and municipal offices, including vice presidential candidates.

Refuses Reward; He Had Enough—$3 Cash

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A 54-year-old man—ill, jobless and only $3 away from being broke—found $84 on a street yesterday and spent several hours searching for its owner before returning it to a church organization.

The man identified himself as Bryan Diggs, a bank watchman before falling health put him out of work.

Mrs. Angelo Calabresi said she had collected the money for a repair fund at St. Mary's Church.

Diggs refused any reward, telling Mrs. Calabresi he had $3 and "that's enough for me."

ROBOT DANCER HAS EVERYTHING BUT SEX APPEAL

ADA, Okla. (P)—It looks like a cross between a helicopter and a maypole. It was conceived to help the lame walk again. And it has everything but sex appeal, if you can believe its inventor.

It is a robot dance instructor, a strange-looking framework of steel and aluminum that is supposed to remold any wallflower into a Gene Kelly or Ginger Rogers.

The thing is the brainchild of Ralph Holcomb, veteran inventor and one-time test pilot who developed a series of training methods used by the Navy in World War II, and whose silent "tactile talk" is being developed by the CAA into an international language of flight.

Movable Lights
The patented device has six pairs of movable lights which are projected on a dance floor, one pair to guide each pupil. Signal lights are taped to the feet of the dancer who leads. The lights are set to move in a pattern duplicating the leader's footwork, and to the beat of a steady dance tune.

It works something like the multiple check writer, except you move your feet instead of your fingers, and you're dancing instead of paying the bills.

Just put your feet where the lights flash and you're in step with the leader. Soon you get the rhythm and you're dancing.

Has Backing
So says Holcomb, and preliminary tests were convincing enough to get well-heeled backing and put the dancing robot into production.

This invention, like others by Holcomb, was an outgrowth of personal tragedy. His five-year-old daughter was injured in an accident that caused paralysis and finally death. His father, R. L. Holcomb, also of Ada, was crippled by a stroke, but with the aid of a device turned out by his son, is able to get about and even go fishing.

Moved by the plight of immobilized polio and other paralysis victims, Holcomb began development of the walking aid that now is teaching the awkward to dance. The technique, he says, is very little different from teaching the lame to walk.

"It will undo your frustrations," he says, "banish your bobbles, get your feet on the beam, strengthen your legwork, steady your rhythm and prepare you for record time for advanced lessons in the arms of a master teacher."

reference to jog our memory as time goes by.

Styles In Albums

Today, the styles in albums as well as the methods of mounting pictures have changed. There used to be only one type of picture album—uniform size drug store prints jammed onto black pages, held there by adhesive black corners which weakened periodically and drop off. Modern albums have acetate or flip-over pockets, or loose leaf pages with ring bindings for easy changing. Some look like library volumes. Pages are light, pastel or in varying shades of gray so that captions or dates may easily be written upon them.

After choosing the type of album you prefer, the method of mounting pictures will have been determined. Acetate pockets do not require paste or rubber cement as regular open pages do. If you must use paste, be sure you get the waterless type, so pages will not buckle. In using rubber cement, a thin layer must be applied to both surfaces (album page and back of print), left to dry, then accurately mounted. Lightly marked guide lines would help in all cases.

All pictures taken should be assembled for the album... but this doesn't mean all pictures must be used. At this point you become a picture editor and must attempt to tell a picture story of the weekend outing, a day at the beach, your vacation trip or whatever subject matter you photographed.

Discard Bad Shots

Discard the bad shots that show obvious camera movement, out-of-focus, wrong exposure or are otherwise spoiled but make sure it is the negative that is bad, not the print. Too often a snapshotter takes blame for a picture that hasn't been printed properly. Having determined that the negative is at fault, destroy the print or negative immediately—some photographers can't—or at least banish them to a box or drawer. You'll never miss them.

After assembling groups of pictures that tell the story in some sort of progressive order, start pruning the pictures themselves to eliminate the waste borders or distracting details at the edges. The most interesting pictures should be enlarged, to full album page size if interesting enough. This shift of emphasis lends variety and puts a professional polish to anybody's personal album.

Some people add souvenirs to their picture albums to help round out the story, like theatre ticket stubs, a menu, a distinctive hotel sticker, etc. Another good idea is to save anything that will date a picture like a printed program at any event or a local newspaper's headline when on a trip, and these, too, go into the album.

By this time it should be apparent that a modern photo album should be of interest and make sense to anybody at any time, like a newspaper or magazine picture story, instead of only to the immediate family.

DETROIT, Mich. (P)—After viewing numerous signs on West Schoolcraft Road which offered for sale various breeds of pedigreed dogs, a motorist came across a stopper.

The sign read, "Free Kittens."

DAMP DRIVING—Two Tommies appear unconcerned as they ride a cargo truck which is submerged by means of a snorkel-type exhaust and breather in Chertsey, England, trial.

On The House

Several things new under the sun today include new glass blocks, designed to give a house sun-glasses; rolled aluminum roofing, designed to install a roof that will bounce the sun's rays right back into Old Sol's face; another aluminum product to give the do-it-yourself man a fancy screen door with his monogram in the center, and a product to rubberize anything from a pair of pants to an entire roof.

As you may have noticed, glass blocks have been performing many tricks in architecture. Modern schools have been using a type that reflects sunlight up against the ceiling for floodlighting an entire ceiling without any direct glare. Other types have been used for skylights to admit light without heat in summer and light with heat in winter.

New Types

Now a new type has been developed with a layer of pale green fibrous glass sandwiched between two hollow glass blocks. The two partial vacuums keep out much of the sun's heat, while the opaque fiber glass diffuses the light in all directions while filtering out the glare.

You get an added cooling effect, which is psychological, since the light coming through the green filter actually makes you feel cooler. Aluminum roll roofing and siding, which can be laid like a rug, is estimated to reduce installation costs by as much as 50 per cent—so say the makers. Cross-corrugated, the idea was developed for roll steel roofing which is expected to be on the market in about a year. But meanwhile rights were granted to apply the process to aluminum. The result is a product that is permanent, fire-proof and rustproof. The rolls cut down on waste and overlap. While prices average about 10 per cent higher than sheet aluminum prices, this is supposed to be more than offset by savings on installation.

Aluminum Idea

The do-it-yourself aluminum idea, which has set many a handyman at work making his own metal sash storm windows and screens, has now been extended to combination storm and screen doors.

You buy a kit of aluminum extrusions with a non-sag feature which the manufacturer says is guaranteed. The door comprises hollow aluminum mullions, tubular door closer, stainless steel hardware and hinges and interchangeable panel of aluminum screen or glass. The kit includes all parts including a solid kick plate panel and a wrought aluminum grill with your initial.

Liquid Rubber Paint

Liquid rubber is now being put out in a paint form which you can apply by brush, spraying or dipping. It is supposed to dry quickly at normal temperatures into a sturdy but flexible protective coating. You can use it to make tool handles shockproof, to insulate wires or to paint on attic or cellar steps to make them skid-proof. It works on handles of tennis rackets, baseball bats and golf clubs for firm grips. The manufacturers say you can even use it to rustproof.

Washington News Letter

By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

WASHINGTON (P)—Woman's Army Corps veterans meeting here for their eighth annual convention agreed that old soldiers never die.

"And they never fade away," laughed pretty Mrs. Violeta Power Duffie of Washington, convention chairman. "For some of us it should be 'old soldiers never die.' We really have trouble trying to get into our old WAC uniforms. I can't zip mine up the sides, and the skirt comes up to the knees."

There wasn't a uniform in the crowd when the lady vets staged a cocktail party before their convention, which was attended by some 350 women from 30 chapters throughout the country. They wore their most feminine party frocks, fancy jewelry and high spike-heeled sandals.

WAC Work Unlimited

On the serious side, the group launched "WAC Work Unlimited," a program to give financial support to WAC units in Germany and Japan helping refugees and orphans in their areas. It elected a new president, Lenora R. Fine of Philadelphia, veteran of 19 months' overseas duty in World War II.

When Mr. Smith came to Washington in 1941 he brought Mrs. Smith, who not only puts in a full day at his office on Capitol Hill as his Girl Friday but is up to all kinds of doings elsewhere in town.

The attractive, energetic, former school mar'm wife of Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) is grandmother of five, president of the Congressional Club, has been chairman of two of the club's cookbooks and is chairman of the Wisconsin Room at national headquarters of the Daughters of the American Revolution here. Right now she's taking a breather after having served as chairman of the 34th annual convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, of which she was national president during 1943 and 1944, before bustling off to Wisconsin to help return Mr. Smith to Washington.

Fish seemed this summer to be a favorite topic in the family of the U.S. ambassador to India, George Allen. The Allens, home for a few weeks vacation with their three sons, relaxed in North Carolina pulling in the trout and listening to George Jr.'s experiences of the past summer. He worked and salmon fishery in Scotland and is entered Princeton University this fall. Son Jack returned to Deerfield Academy and Dick returned to India with his parents in October.

WASHINGTON (P)—Clara Egli Le Gear lives in a busy little longitude and latitude of her own, surrounded by the world at large as depicted in thousands of maps and atlases. One-time assistant chief and now bibliographer of the Map Division of the Library of Congress, Mrs. Le Gear has spent close to 39 years working with maps of all kinds and has seen the library's collection grow from 500,000 in 1914 to more than two million today.

"It's been fascinating because you learn something new every day," the sprightly, little brown-eyed woman said enthusiastically. She thumbed through a yellowing, leather-bound book containing a reference to Nicolas Sanson, early atlas publisher and founder of the French school of cartography. "The only reference in the library catalogue to a Sanson family," she said, "was to the Sansons who managed the gullionette. Four generations of these Sansons were in the map business."

She had been perusing other huge bound volumes on a table behind her desk—one a beautiful, hand-colored atlas turned out by the Dutch school in 1685. "Rembrandt is known to have embellished a number of maps," she said.

On her wall she had a delicately colored modern map of the northwestern United States made of plastic. "I like it," she said simply.

Mrs. Le Gear, born at Hoboken, N. J., practically grew up with the Map Division. Her first job was with the late Philip Lee Phillips, division chief from 1901 until his death in 1924. He catalogued all the maps in the library's book collection, and his work, published as a Senate document, got him the Chiefship. When the Map Division was organized in 1897 there were some 50,000 maps.

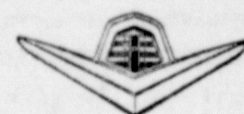

Phillips Work

"Mr. Phillips was an antiquarian, rather than a geographer," Mrs. Le Gear said, "and it's just as well, because the cream of the library's collection was acquired in his lifetime. His successors were geographers, so the emphasis changed from acquiring the old to the new."

As bibliographer, Mrs. Le Gear has made a list of U. S. atlases, the oldest dated 1776. She is also compiling a supplement to Phillips work.

U.S. DESIGNERS GAIN PRESTIGE AMONG FASHION

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press: Women's Editor
When all America's top luminaries in the world of fashion get together against the august background of the new auditorium of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, there's no doubt that American fashion designers need no longer take a back seat to anyone else in the world.

This happened at the recent presentation of the American Fashion Critics' Awards to two young designers, James Galanos of California, and Charles James of New York, when a cavalcade of American fashions was shown, representing the work of previous award winners of the last 12 years.

The top award, the bronze sculptured "Winnie," went to Galanos, a hitherto little-known Greek-American from Los Angeles, and the special award, a bronze plaque, to James, a designer who started in Chicago, made his reputation in New York. Galanos was cited for his "fresh, new, influence on the whole U. S. coat market during the last season."

Costume Exhibit
While the gala modern fashion show went on in the auditorium, the Costume Institute's own exhibition of 500 years of European and American costumes went on in the galleries below.

The suave clothes of young Galanos, a slight and diffident young man not yet 30, are notable for their simplicity of line and their richness of fabric. He likes

Booby Trap Fails For W. Va. Train

TTOGA, W. Va. (AP) — A train used for hauling coal for the strike-bound Maest Coal and Coke Co. mines narrowly missed being blown up near here on Sunday when a booby trap failed to explode.

Opl. C. G. McClain of the state police said the fuse on about 14 sticks of dynamite under the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks apparently had been lit but went out.

The train crew found the bomb when they stopped to investigate dirt and rocks on the tracks.

cocktail and evening gowns best, does some street dresses but no suits. His daytime dresses are likely to be one-piece and tweedy, with a coat-dress look. His evening gowns reach the heights of elegance, sell for prices up to $995, ready-made. A typical example is a French jacquard woven satin in tones of pale green and pinky beige, strapless, simple, with a harem train.

James' coats, done for a New York wholesale firm, are startling in both silhouette and fabric. His prize silhouette is molded to the bosom, then flared sharply at either back or front. He uses wool bur-lap and satin with equal ease.

Honored Designers
Though the collections of the current award winners were impressive, the impact of the whole force of modern American fashion came from the parade of costumes from the 39 designers who have been similarly honored in other years. These include:

Norman Norell, Lilly Dache, John Frederick, Mr. John, Claire McCardell, Sally Victor, Gilbert Adrian, Tina Leser, Emily Wilkens, Clare Potter, Omar Kiam, Vincent Mone-Sano, Nettie Rosenstein, Mark Mooring, Jack Horwitz,

VIETNAMESE STUDIES LIFE IN AMERICA

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pretty Miss Nguyen Thi Cut, whose name, pronounced "Cool," means "little bird" is returning to her native Saigon, Indochina, after several months in the United States boning up on her job and learning about life in America.

The tiny, 29-year-old daughter of a retired Vietnam government official, has been assistant to the chief of the U. S. Information Services Library in Saigon since February, 1951. One of a family of 5 girls and 10 boys, she had been working in a French school after graduating from Gialong college in the Vietnam capital. She was asked to take over the post of a good friend who had come to the United States to work for the Voice of America.

Traveling with a group of nine from the Far East, she has visited libraries in New York, Maine, Ohio, Georgia and Nebraska, where she lived for several days on a farm near Lincoln.

Cities More Interesting
"There are more interesting things to see in the big cities," Miss Nguyen Thi Cut said, "but I had the best time in the small towns. Everyone was so friendly. I went to picnics, luncheons, dinners. Sometimes I cooked Vietnamese dishes like fried rice with meat, egg and soy sauce; a chicken soup for my American friends."

The doll-like Vietnamese, with her satiny black hair, pearly teeth and rose-polished nails, was wearing a picturesque costume, an "ao-dai," or long tunic of moss green brocade silk, with slits up both sides, over long white "quan," or trousers. She wore Vietnamese-made, black suede "wedgies" and no stockings. She carried an American purse, and diamonds sparkled in her ears.

"We have our ears pierced because we wear real diamonds and pearls, jade or jet," she told me. "And the women always wear costumes like this, though the men wear western dress. I'm taking nylon and dacron shirts home for my father and brothers, as well as flashlights and cigarette lighters. I'm taking my sisters American-printed fabrics for tunics. We have beautiful silks at home, but not so many different patterns."

GOP Has Surplus, Democrats In Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official reports on campaign finances show that the Republican National Committee went into the final lap of the congressional campaign with a surplus of funds while its Democratic counterpart operated in the red.

In a report to the House, the GOP organization said Saturday that up to Oct. 15 it had collected $1,356,216 and spent $1,214,763.

A separate report from the Democratic committee showed collections of $960,134 and spending of $1,031,669.

The reports are required by the corrupt practices law of 1925.

Adele Simpson, Jessie Carnegie, Esther Dorothy, Joseph de Leo, Maximilian, Pauline Trigrere, Toni Owen, David Ewins, Bonnie Cashion, Mabel and Charles Julianelli, Nancy Melcher, Jane Derby, Vera Maxwell, Anne Fogarty, Sylvia Pedlar, Ben Zuckerman, Ben Sommers, Harvey Berin and Karen Stark, Sydney Wragge, Thomas F. Brigrance, Talmack, Helen Lee.

Creations of these designers range from coats, suits and dresses to hats, furs and shoes. They represent a dazzling total of American design which defines the American Look for all the world to see. It is a look not borrowed from Paris or Rome, but created specifically to fit the needs of the modern American woman and her way of life.

2 Mothers Exchange 5-Week-Old Boys

STRATFORD, England (AP)—Two young mothers who refused to exchange their babies after doctors said they had been switched at the hospital have finally given in. They tearfully traded the 5-week-old boys Sunday — on a trial basis.

Doctors at the Forest Gate Hospital discovered last week they had made an error in identification the day after the infants were born. Subsequent blood tests proved there had been a mixup.

Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, and Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, said they still are not convinced they had the wrong babies.

V8 Power, Complete Re-styling Mark Chevrolets

A styling advance from any point of view is claimed by the company for 1955 Chevrolets. The latest lineup of 14 models has been completely restyled and in addition incorporates the widest array of chassis improvements ever offered by Chevrolet on a new model. Lower, flatter lines are accompanied by new frames, new suspensions, new operating devices and new power. With the optional Powerglide or overdrive and new V8 engine plus two six-cylinder engines, a customer has a choice of six "power packages." The Bel Air 4-door sedan is pictured above.

Many thanks to the public for the most gracious welcome given the new 1955 V8 Chevrolet at our showing over the weekend. Attention was certainly focused on the features of the smartly styled '55 Chevrolets.

OUR SHOWROOMS ARE OPEN DAILY AND SUNDAY UNTIL 9 P.M.
